URAC is an independent organization focused on promoting health care quality through leadership, accreditation, measurement, and innovation. URAC's full accreditation status means AllianceRx Walgreens Prime's home delivery is meeting industry-leading standards of organizational quality, customer service, communications, drug utilization and pharmacy operation.

"It's hard to believe it was three years ago when we obtained our initial URAC accreditation for home delivery," says Tracey James, senior vice president of Pharmacy Services at AllianceRx Walgreens Prime. "URAC accreditation sets high standards for health care quality. Reaccreditation is a testament to our unwavering commitment to quality and safety. It also underscores the hard work and dedication of our team members who continually uphold these high standards of quality for our organization and our patients," she says.

The URAC accreditation process serves as a framework to improve business processes by benchmarking organizations against nationally recognized standards. The rigorous process requires applicants to submit policies, procedures, and other organizational information that is followed by a review. AllianceRx Walgreens Prime home delivery pharmacy was originally accredited in 2018. Reaccreditation is effective from July 1, 2021 to July 1, 2024.

"As mail service pharmacy options grow, it is important to have a means of verifying that an organization can address the dynamic of cost and quality," said URAC President and CEO Shawn Griffin, M.D. "AllianceRx Walgreens Prime chose to demonstrate its commitment to industry best practices and regulatory compliance by undergoing a rigorous URAC review and receiving an accreditation of its services.
